In the framework of the FONDACA Euro-American Colloquia on Citizenship Program

FONDACA Active Citizenship Foundation and The Center for International Relations of the Boston University

invite you to attend the lecture

Citizen Activism in the European Union: Between Cynicism and False Expectations

by

Paul Magnette

Professor of Political Science and Director of the Institute for European Studies

Free University of Brussels

on

Tuesday, JANUARY 23, 2007

3:30 P.M. – 5:00 P.M.

The Center for International Relations, BOSTON UNIVERSITY

152 Bay State Rd., 2nd floor

WELCOME ADDRESS:	Hussain HAQQANI, Professor of International Relations, Boston University
INTRODUCTORY REMARKS:	Thomas BERGER, Professor of International Relations, Boston University Giovanni MORO, President, FONDACA
DISCUSSANTS:	Thomas BERGER, Professor of International Relations, Boston University Elizabeth PRODROMOU, Professor of International Relations, Boston University

The Euro-American Colloquia on Citizenship is a program of FONDACA, aimed at filling the information gap on differences and similarities between European and American citizenship through specific events in the US and in Europe, started in 2003.*

With the support of:

Fondaca, Active Citizenship Foundation, Via Flaminia 71, 00196 Rome, Italy. Tel. +39 06 36006173 – fax +39 06 3207495 www.fondaca.org - home@fondaca.org