

Call for Articles for the Thirteenth Annual Edition of the Journal for Nonprofit Management

An annual publication for those concerned with developing excellence in nonprofit management and leadership

We welcome applied research, evidence based and innovative practices, case studies, and book reviews that would be of interest to nonprofit executive directors, board members, and consultants. The theme for the 2009 Journal is:

Managing in Challenging Times

Topics of interest include but are not limited to: best practices for dealing with an economic downturn, organizational turnaround, “right sizing,” the role of the board in extraordinary times, and sustainability

Deadline for Submission: June 30

Articles should be no more than 4,500 words, use inclusive language, and comply with style recommendations outlined in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association. Permission for the use of quoted material is the responsibility of the author. Authors are also responsible for verifying documentation of all references used to support their manuscripts. Manuscripts should be submitted by E-Mail to the editor. The Journal does not pay for the use of articles.

The Journal appears only in an electronic format.
