

FULLY FUNDED DOCTORAL RESEARCH POST IN CHARITY LAW

SCHOOL OF LAW AND SOCIAL JUSTICE

UNIVERSITY OF LIVERPOOL

The School of Law and Social Justice invites applications for a fully funded doctoral research post in Charity Law commencing on Monday 27 September 2010.

Candidates should have a good first degree in Law (or a related discipline) and have completed (or be near to completing) a postgraduate degree in Law at Masters or an equivalent level. The general field of research within which candidates should wish to conduct their research is Charity Law. The proposed doctoral project should fall within the expertise of an existing member of the School's Charity Law Unit:

see <http://www.liv.ac.uk/law/clu/index.htm> for full details.

The post is funded over a 3 year period. Over the three years of the studentship, the School will pay all full-time University fees at the home / EU level (£3,466 FT in 2010/2011); plus a full maintenance grant per annum fixed at the AHRC level (£13,590 in 2010/2011). As well as conducting their research satisfactorily and meeting all the training requirements of the School and the University, the successful candidate will be required to work for one day a week on the School's 'Interchange' project. A registered charity since 1994, 'Interchange' facilitates collaboration between the city universities and local charities. Its aims are to assist 'in-kind' knowledge exchange, where both the community organisation and student learn from the experience of working on projects in a process for public benefit. The post holder will work with the Coordinator and Management Committee to support the dual activities of providing student placements and working closely with local charities to develop viable research/work projects. Where appropriate this may involve facilitating community workshops to explore how organisations can engage in research. For further information see <http://www.liv.ac.uk/ssp/interchange/index.htm>

Candidates should send a letter of application, an up-to-date CV and their detailed research proposal to Ms Barbara Bryan (Liverpool Law School, Liverpool L69 7ZS; email: babryan@liv.ac.uk) by Monday 16 August 2010. For queries or further information, please contact Dr Jonathan Garton (Charity Law Unit, Liverpool Law School; email: Jonathan.Garton@liverpool.ac.uk) or Professor John Harrington (Director of Postgraduate Research; email: john.harrington@liv.ac.uk).
