

University at Albany -
Assistant Professor, Public Management, Rockefeller College

Job Description:

The Department of Public Administration & Policy, Rockefeller College of Public Affairs and Policy, University at Albany SUNY seeks a tenure-track Assistant Professor in the area of Public Management. Our primary interest is in scholars of non-profit management, but we will also entertain applicants with a focus in local government management.

Rockefeller College is home to a diverse group of over 40 full-time scholars interested in teaching and research on issues of importance in the public and nonprofit sectors. Ranked 14th overall by US News and World Report, the Department of Public Administration and Policy offers an undergraduate major, a Masters in Public Administration (MPA) that includes policy specializations, and a PhD in Public Administration and Policy. The Department is affiliated with six research centers around the University at Albany that provide support for a wide variety of grant-funded projects. The Department is nationally ranked in IT/e-government, public management, and public finance/public financial management. Additionally, the Department has highly active programs of research in homeland security, health policy, financial market regulation, and system dynamics. We actively seek and support demographic diversity in our faculty and student body. To learn more about the Department visit our website at www.albany.edu/rockefeller.

Requirements:

The successful candidate will hold a Ph.D. in public administration, public management, public policy, public affairs, management, political science, or an allied field by August 2010. Ph.D. must be from a college or university accredited by the US Department of Education or an internationally recognized accrediting organization. Candidates are expected to teach in the undergraduate, MPA, and/or Ph.D. core classes as well as offer courses that are specific to the non-profit or local government concentrations in the MPA and Ph.D. degrees. Experience in the practice of administration is preferred but not required. Experience with grant seeking is also desired.

Contribution to one of the Department's areas of distinctive competence is also a plus (see above for a list) but secondary to our interest in enhancing our teaching and research capabilities in non-profit management or local government management. Applicants must address in their application their ability to work with culturally diverse populations.

Additional Information:

A review of applications will start on December 1, 2009 and the search will remain open until the position is filled.
